

Sell Yourself Success First

In this presentation attendees will learn:

- 3 Reasons you must sell yourself success first to get more of what you want on purpose
- Why your words are creating your challenges and what to do about it
- How you embody the success you want before you actually get there

Choose Success in 2016 by Selling Yourself Success First!!

Choosing a new level of success requires changing how you show up. It requires focus and intention. It's not so easy in our massively social environment running at a million miles an hour. It's easy to let our default take over while we deal with the situation at hand. The key to your success is to sell yourself success first and to do that a specific dialogue needs to happen.

Our guest speaker Stephanie Trager, Success Coach & Business Strategist –also known as the “Success Shaman” – and a former practicing attorney –will share why you must sell yourself success first to get what you want on purpose, how you do it and why you must embody who you wish to become before you get there.
